Colour Coding for Learners with Autism (2014)

— “Children on the autism spectrum are often highly visual learners, making color a powerful and motivating learning tool. This book explains how color coding helps young people with autism to generalize lessons already learnt... This allows children to draw on learnt experiences, which creates a sense of order, reduces anxiety, and can aid communication, understanding emotions, organization...”

The Complete IEP Guide: How to Advocate for Your Special Needs Child (2011)

— “Federal law guarantees every child a free, appropriate education, and the goal of the IEP is to assure that every child with special needs receives what the law promises. This powerful book covers: eligibility rules and assessments, working with outside experts, developing your child's ideal educational program, preparing for and attending meetings, developing a blueprint of program and services, [and] resolving disputes with school districts...”

Special Education Law (2007)

— “Provides a clear roadmap to the laws and how to get better services for all children with disabilities. This Wrightslaw publication is an invaluable resource for parents, advocates, educators, and attorneys. You will refer to this book again and again.”

Spotlight on These New Additions...

Great Books and Videos

"Books are a uniquely portable magic."

-Stephen King

I Am Special: Second Edition (2013)

— I am Special is a proven program for helping children, teens and adults on the autism spectrum to understand themselves and their diagnosis, gain confidence and thrive. This is a unique resource for all those involved in supporting children, teens and adults on the autism spectrum, including teachers, psychologists, counselors as well as parents and careers.

Helping Kids and Teens with ADHD in School (2009)

— “Young people with ADHD can struggle to develop the skills they need to adapt to new situations and establish greater independence. This... workbook is aimed at actively engaging young people with ADHD and supporting them as they negotiate the pitfalls of growing-up, and the transition to secondary or high school.”

A-Z of Genetic Factors in Autism (2010)

— “...Provides parents with a complete overview of the genetic disorders most commonly associated with autism... Aitken demystifies the umbrella term 'autism' by alphabetically listing these conditions along with information about how common they are, their causes, signs, and symptoms, and appropriate methods of treatment and management. Information on support groups and sources of further information are also included.”

Columbia Buddy Walk

Sunday, October 19, 2014
Sesquicentennial State Park

Family Connection of South Carolina will host its 15th Annual Columbia Buddy Walk at 9564 Two Notch Road, Columbia, SC 29223.

This is a day to celebrate the Down syndrome community and to promote acceptance and inclusion. As more people are introduced to and interact with individuals with Down syndrome, barriers fall, prejudices diminish and doors open. The event is FREE and includes bounce houses, food, games, music and lots of fun!

We hope to see you there!
