Welcome Back!

On behalf of the Library faculty and staff, I would like to welcome all new students, faculty, and staff to the School of Medicine and welcome back our returning students. As evidenced by the articles in this issue, the Library continues to add new electronic information tools at a steady rate. We now provide access to over 32,000 e-journals, 400 e-books, and 50 databases.

Ruth Riley, Director of Library Services

One of our greatest resources is our excellent faculty and staff! They are committed to helping you find the information you need to be successful in your studies, research, and patient care. Please stop by the Library Reference Desk or use our Ask A Librarian online reference service if you have a question or need help in using our numerous electronic resources or finding a book or journal article. We also offer training programs and one-on-one consultations.

Please let us know how we can help with your work and scholarly pursuits. We hope to make your year a successful one!

Encyclopedia of Medical Genomics & Proteomics

The Library is pleased to announce that the South Carolina IDeA Networks of Biomedical Research Excellence (SC INBRE) program is providing funding for the purchase of access to the online Encyclopedia of Medical Genomics & Proteomics. Updating researchers on phenomenal progress in the field of molecular medicine, this Encyclopedia reviews the latest medical applications of nucleic acid and protein technology-collecting trail-blazing studies and authoritative contributions from more than 400 specialists on molecular diagnostics, genomics, microbiology, genetics, pharmacogenetics, pathology, forensics, tissue and cell typing, and disease susceptibility. The encyclopedia is accessible via the Library's E-Textbooks page under "Biotechnology".

PsychiatryOnline and Psychiatry Legacy Collection Now Available

The Library has purchased two products from American Psychiatric Publishing, Inc.: Psychiatry-Online and Psychiatry Legacy Collection.

PsychiatryOnline is an online portal featuring a collection of comprehensive resources for psychiatric diagnosis, treatment, research, and case studies. PsychiatryOnline's resources include:

- DSM-IV-TR
- DSM-IV-TR Handbook of Differential Diagnosis
- DSM-IV-TR Casebook and its Treatment Companion
- American Psychiatric Association Practice Guidelines in both comprehensive and quick-reference formats
- The American Psychiatric Publishing Textbook of Clinical Psychiatry, with an interactive Self-Assessment
- American Journal of Psychiatry, Psychiatric Services, Academic Psychiatry, Journal of Neuropsychiatry and Clinical Neurosciences, Psychosomatics, and Psychiatric News

The Psychiatry Legacy Collection covers 162 years of psychiatry through six respected, peer-reviewed psychiatry journals back to Volume 1, Issue 1.

The Psychiatry Legacy Collection includes:

- The American Journal of Psychiatry, 1844-1996
- Academic Psychiatry, 1989-1997
- Journal of Neuropsychiatry and Clinical Neurosciences, 1989-1997
- Journal of Psychotherapy Practice and Research, 1992-1997
- Psychiatric Services, 1950-1997
- Psychosomatics, 1960-1997

The journals in the Psychiatry Legacy Collection can be accessed individually through TDNet (the library's E-Journals database).

STAT!Ref Cancelled

As of September 1, 2006, the Library will no longer offer access to STAT!Ref. A different electronic textbook package, AccessMedicine, has been added to the library's electronic resources collection. AccessMedicine is an excellent alternative to STAT!Ref in that it offers some of the same titles as well as a large number of additional titles in the basic and clinical sciences. All titles previously offered through STAT!Ref are accessible in an online or a print version. Check the Library's online catalog, SCarlit, for availability.

Fond Farewells

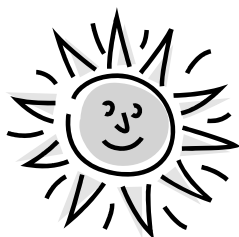

Erica Peake, who has been our wonderful Interlibrary Loan/Systems Specialist for over 5 years, recently accepted a new position as Systems Manager for the Kershaw County Public Library System. Though she will be greatly missed by her friends and colleagues at the USC School of Medicine Library, we wish her all of the best and know that she will make a wonderful addition to the Kershaw County Library staff.

Ellen Reynolds, Cataloging Specialist, retired on May 19, 2006 after 18 years of committed service. Ellen was primarily responsible for cataloging the book and reference collections, the Center for Disability Resources Library collection, and the History of Medicine collection. Congratulations, Ellen!

Welcome New Faculty Librarian

Christine Whitaker will join the School of Medicine Library as the Collection Development Librarian beginning October 16, 2006. Christine has been working as a Science Librarian at the USC Thomas Cooper Library for nine years. She was awarded tenure in 2003. Christine possesses extensive experience in collection development and has an extremely strong background in science and medicine. She will be a valuable addition to the School of Medicine Library team.

If you ever have a question about Library policies, please visit our "Policies and Procedures" web page at <http://uscm.med.sc.edu/policies.htm>.

Library Improves Full Text Links In OVID

As our e-journal collection continues to grow rapidly, the School of Medicine (SOM) Library has implemented a link resolver, TDNet TOURresolver, in OVID to enhance linking to full text articles. TOURresolver identifies the article citation, then checks the holdings in the Library's collection to create multiple customized links to relevant resources. These may include links to the full text providers, the library's online catalog, ILL Express, Ask A Librarian, etc.

The most significant change in Ovid after the implementation of TOURresolver is that users see the "Find Full Text @ USC School of Medicine Library" icon on every citation of their search results regardless of whether full text is available from the SOM Library or not. The system first checks for the availability of the e-journal article in the SOM Library holdings list. If it doesn't find it there, then the system generates a message that says:

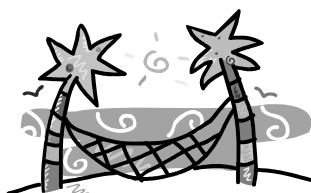

"Sorry, no full text sources have been identified for this citation based on the holdings of the School of Medicine Library. Please note that full text may be available from Thomas Cooper Library. Please click the link below for availability."

Then the user will click on the Thomas Cooper Library link to check for full text there.

The benefit of this change is to provide users with far more full text access than ever before. Titles available to the USC main campus can also be accessed by School of Medicine patrons. In TDNet Journal Manager System, School of Medicine journal holdings for biomedical sciences now total over 2,700. However, on the University Main Library site, there are over 31,000 e-journal titles available. If you can't find the title you need through the School of Medicine, be sure to check the Thomas Cooper Library titles for additional access.

You Are Invited to the Beach!!

You are invited to celebrate National Medical Librarians Month with us on October 18th. In honor of the Medical Library Association's "Everything Under the Sun" theme this year, the library will be hosting a BACK TO THE BEACH DAY. Refreshments will be served, so put on your favorite Hawaiian shirt and swing on by for some fun ...
